An aerial photograph of a cricket field. The field is oval-shaped with a central rectangular pitch. Surrounding the field are various structures and roads. A dirt road runs along the left side. A blue-roofed building is located near the top left. A larger building with a dark roof is on the right side. A blue-roofed building is also visible near the bottom right. Arrows point from text boxes to specific locations: one to a road on the left, and another to a road on the right. The word 'Google' is visible at the bottom center.
